Anh T. Dang, University of Arizona, Wins 2025 CCCC Scholars for the Dream Travel Award

Champaign, IL – 12/16/2024 – Anh T. Dang, University of Arizona, has won a 2025 CCCC Scholars for the Dream Travel Award. The Conference on College Composition and Communication (CCCC) is a constituent organization within the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE). Dang is one of 19 recipients of this award.

CCCC sponsors the Scholars for the Dream Awards to encourage scholarship by historically underrepresented groups. This includes Black, Latinx, Asian, American Indian/Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian, or other Pacific Islander scholars—persons whose presence and whose contributions are central to the full realization of our professional goals.

CCCC supports scholars' participation in the CCCC Annual Convention and sponsors a reception for all award winners. The Awards Selection Committee considers originality of research, significance of pedagogical or theoretical contributions to the field, and potential for larger, subsequent projects.

Dang will be announced as a recipient of the CCCC Scholars for the Dream Travel Award on Friday, April 11, during the 2025 CCCC Annual Convention in Baltimore, MD.
